The Lorain County Land Bank has worked in partnership with local governments, the courts, state government and the federal government. The Land Bank has reduced criminal activity and in many cases, has improved property values.

Here is why OUR Land Bank has been successful:

- The LCLRC has expended nearly $3,000,000.00 non-local dollars in the City of Lorain

- Demolished over 170 blighted, vacant, abandoned, condemned and unsafe housing units

"The work of the Lorain County Land Bank is integral in the City of Lorain's efforts to remove vacant and abandoned housing, which for too long dragged down property values, attracted crime and negatively impacted neighborhoods. As a board member of the Lorain County Land Bank and as an advocate and supporter of its inception, it greatly pleases me to see property values stabilizing, crime decreasing and neighborhoods improving. We have more work to do, but the progress thus far has been transformational throughout the City of Lorain."

- Lorain Mayor Chase Ritenauer
